

Queen Mary Island

$250 Million / 65 Acre Entertainment Complex

When the legendary Queen Mary arrived in Long Beach in 1967, she breathed new life into the City. Today, in her exciting next chapter, she has the opportunity to do even more—as the magnificent centerpiece presiding over a dynamic $250 million waterfront destination known as Queen Mary Island. The City of Long Beach’s iconic Queen Mary would become the centerpiece of "Queen Mary Island," a 65-acre entertainment complex that would include California's first indoor ice climbing wall, surfing, canyoning, skydiving, zip lining, and a trampoline park. Join us to learn about this exciting project!
