Alternate Project Delivery Under California Law Where Are We Headed?

This seminar will review and explore the latest legal trends in California concerning alternate project delivery methods and the current legal landscape addressing the authority to use these various methods in public works construction and the risks to the various project participants when they commit to use an alternate delivery method that they may not be familiar with given past experience. The seminar will cover the legality and contract risks of certain delivery methods, requirements, restrictions, selection of the entity to design, build and construct the project and the current landscape and direction the construction industry is taking particularly as it concerns all manner of public works construction.

Key Topics Will Include

- Design Build Delivery
- Job Order Contracting
- Master Agreements/Task Order Contracts
- Construction Manager At Risk
- Alternate Delivery Methods Allowed For Public Works
- Best Value Selection
- Rights, Remedies Regarding Best Value Selection
- Risk Overview and Risk Shifting Regarding Design and Construction
- Limitations of Alternate Delivery Methods
