PROGRAM WEBINAR

The Future of Airline Travel

Wednesday, August 31, 2022 • 9:30am-10:30am • Virtual

PROGRAM SUMMARY

CMAA brings together the most forward-thinking airline representatives to provide a unique perspective on scalability in the air transport industry, developments affecting the design and construction industry, and progressive approaches to airport design, construction and sustainability. Join us to get the latest information on touchless travel; biometrics and digital identity; and how technology will continue to push us as we continue to define the Future Travel experience.
